

Arkadin Express™

Instant conferencing with no reservation and no invoicing.

Arkadin Express™ is an instant audio, web and video conferencing service available 24/7 globally. Easy to set up and to use and with excellent quality of service, you can start using this “on-demand” service within minutes. This simple solution does not involve any reservation or invoicing, each participant pays for his own usage via their phone bill.

Arkadin Express™

Arkadin Express™ offers an easy to use audio conferencing service. You can also use our web and video conferencing services for more interactive conferences.

Arkadin Express Audio Conferencing

Many benefits to help you manage your conferences:

- Start your conferences immediately, with no limit of participants
- Service available 24/7 globally
- Easily invite your participants
- Local access numbers available in multiple countries
- A secure PIN code that you can modify whenever you want, for safe conferences
- Record, listen and share your conferences
- Many additional features available during your conferences (Mute or unmute your own line or the participant's ones, lock the conference to new participants, know how many people are in the conference...)

Arkadin Express Web Conferencing

Web conferencing service available from our web site:

- Share your documents, applications or your entire desktop with all of your participants
- No download required, you just need an internet browser
- You can manage your audio conferences from the web conference interface
- Transfer files with ease and securely
- Whiteboard and annotation tools
- Chat functionality available on the web conferencing interface

Arkadin Express Video Conferencing

Video conferencing service to make your conference calls more interactive:

- You only need a webcam
- All your participants can be seen on the same screen
- Enlarge the view of your participants
- Turn on/off your webcam in 1 click
- Chat functionality available on the video conferencing interface

